

PAPERCLIP COMMUNICATIONS

June 1, 2009

On behalf of PaperClip Communications (www.paper-clip.com) I would like to highly recommend Dr. Brian VanBrunt for your presentation, consulting and training needs.

I am incredibly grateful that that our professional paths crossed a few years back. Since that time Brian has presented numerous PaperClip Communication webinars and audio conferences, with more slated for the coming year. Through these events Brian has connected with hundreds of colleges and universities and consistently garners positive evaluation feedback from participants.

Not only is Brian a competent and resourceful professional and presenter – addressing topics such as program evaluation, mandated referrals, assessment, preventing burnout and at-risk students, to name a few – his preparation and presentation styles are stellar.

Brian has agreed to take on almost any topic I have invited him to present, and is always open to collaborating with others. He is a valuable resource, well-respected in his field and I am thankful that he has partnered with PaperClip Communications routinely to help us best serve student affairs professionals in their important work with college students.

As an event coordinator, I appreciate and value Brian's commitment to meeting deadlines, creating professional resources, and presenting the breadth and depth of every topic he takes on. He is a reliable and dedicated presenter that I know I can count on time after time.

Brian has a wealth of information, is an exemplary and cutting-edge professional, and is just plain fun to work with. I would recommend anyone who is looking to engage and educate people to consider inviting Brian to take the lead!

Sincerely,

Tamie Klumpyan
